As to Printing The News

Editor Evening Herald:

In the Morning Journal of this date I have read with interest a column of matter appearing on the front page and devoted to reasons why the Journal is a superior newspaper. There is no question but what this paper compares favorably with any published in the southwest, and no doubt it is well worth the price of subscription, but when the management makes the statement "It takes two prints the largest Associated Press report received between Kansas City and Los Angeles," an omission which occurred in their news columns within the past few days has been brought home to me, most forcibly. In the Evening Herald of Wednesday, September 2nd, there appeared the following Associated Press dispatch:

SURFMAN IN RAILWAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—For the first time in many months, government operation of the railroads in July showed a surplus instead of deficit. Secretary General Hines announced that preliminary figures of the month's business indicated net operating income of $77,000,000. After allowing for interest on the annual rental due the railroad companies the net gain is about $2,000,000, as compared with a deficit of $22,000,000 the preceding month and $45,000,000 in February, the largest deficit of the year.

It is true that in the Herald this report did not appear upon the front page, and also that it was given a very modest heading, but nevertheless it was reported and has been read with satisfaction, particularly on the part of the railroad men. I have carefully read the Morning Journal for September 2nd, 3d, 4th and 5th, with the object in mind of locating this same dispatch, but without results. Certainly it is a fact that the papers cannot publish everything that reaches them and something has to be cut out, but we are wondering why this particular item was selected. We notice on the front page of the Journal of the 4th there appears an editorial attacking and two murders. Why not have omitted one of these and have published this important message relative to the improved situation in the operation of the railroads? One naturally wonders, did the policy of the paper in question relative to having the roads returned to private operation have anything to do with it? I hope not, because while a paper may advocate certain policies editorially, they should nevertheless publish the news and this was a news item of no small importance. Perhaps this item did appear and I have overlooked it. If so, I will most humbly apologize for this criticism, but I have several times gone through the Journal of the dates mentioned, and unless it was hid in the market reports or liners, I do not believe any such report as that published by the Herald has appeared in Albuquerque's morning paper.

W. E. PATTERSON.

President Unable to Visit New Mexico, Is A. B. Fall's Message

According to a telegram received yesterday by the Chamber of Commerce from Senator A. B. Fall, President Wilson will be unable to accept the invitation to visit this city on his trip west. Senator Fall quotes a message from Secretary Tammily pressing the president's regret that owing to the limited time devoted to the tour he will not be able to include Albuquerque. The Chamber of Commerce is also in receipt of a personal letter from Secretary Tammily conveying the same information.

800 Delegates Are Expected Here at Legion Convention

A business meeting to further the plans for the state convention of the American Legion with refreshments to be served by the War Camp Community Service are on the program for the Hugh A. Carlisle post Tuesday night at the Armory at 8:30.

Col. H. R. Brown, post commander is on a trip east at present to engage speakers for the state convention, and to procure decorations. The Legion plans to make the convention truly a gala week for the city, with carnivals in the streets, parades, with bands and flying banners and many other festivities formally to welcome the 17,000 soldiers who entered the service from the state of New Mexico.

Over 800 delegates from the 24 posts in the state are expected at the convention, as well as many other visitors who will take advantage of the one cent a mile fare offered to former soldiers for the period of the convention. With the 800 members of the Albuquerque post it is estimated that there will be around 1,500 in attendance.
